

GUILDHALL

The Corporation's home at Guildhall has witnessed traitors' trials, heroes' welcomes, freedom ceremonies and glittering state occasions. It has been the seat of municipal government since the twelfth century and its ancient walls have twice survived catastrophic fire. This rare example of medieval civic architecture is a Grade I listed building and a national treasure.

Corporation of London guildhall

CORPORATION
OF LONDON